Instructional Coaching Resource™

Transitioning from Teacher to Instructional Coach

The following coaching resource is designed to support educators who are developing leadership capacity through instructional coaching, collaboration, and professional learning.

Coaching and Leadership Applications

- Shift from giving answers to guiding reflective thinking.
- Build trust before attempting instructional change.
- Model instructional practices strategically and respectfully.
- Support colleagues through collaboration rather than evaluation.
- Focus coaching conversations on growth, clarity, and sustainability.

Effective instructional coaching strengthens professional capacity through trust, reflection, and purposeful collaboration.
